Secrétaire générale

Recherche le "monde parfait" pour les personnes handicapées

X

Rechercher l'idéal est une belle perspective. Néanmoins, si l'objectif reste trop idéaliste, il est très difficile de pousser les autorités à agir positivement. Si le premier pas est trop grand, ils refuseront l'obstacle, comme un cheval dans un jumping... et le résultat obtenu quand il arrive sera décevant pour les personnes qui en attendaient beaucoup plus. BDF est dans une approche plus pragmatique et préférerait avoir la perspective idéale mais avec une planification des étapes attendues à court et moyen terme.

Collaborer avec les conseils nationaux à la définition de stratégies visant à rechercher ensemble le meilleur et les mesures réalistes... afin de rendre leur lobbying auprès des gouvernements des Etats aussi efficace que possible...

L'EDF pourrait consulter ses membres plus en avance sur les thématiques sur lesquelles il travaille. L'organisation de groupes de travail de petite taille afin de recueillir le point de vue des membres permettrait d'ouvrir le champ des positions de l'EDF. Cela pourrait devenir une méthode de travail systématique pour le deuxième jour de l'AGA EDF.

Deux avantages clés : 1) Appui au processus de l'UNCRPD 2) Appui au projet pilote de la European Disability Card

1) Mieux comprendre la méthodologie de l'ONU afin de rédiger des propositions de questions efficaces et de les défendre auprès du Comité des personnes handicapées 2) Bénéficier du lobbying du FEPH au niveau européen

Fournir un soutien pratique pour participer à l'examen de la CDPH, car il était précis et bien documenté.

X

Mettre à disposition sur le site de l'EDF des fiches didactiques sur l'état d'avancement des dossiers. Elle devraient idéalement être également disponibles dans un langage « facile à lire et à comprendre » pour permettre une meilleure compréhension des évolutions européennes par les personnes handicapées.

Le BDF n'a aucun moyen d'évaluer l'impact de ces différents supports

C'est un large éventail de moyens. L'élargir encore ne semble pas être une option. Il est toujours possible d'améliorer la qualité

Le BDF n'a aucun moyen d'évaluer l'impact de ces différents supports

L'action de l'EDF est efficace en tant que structure de lobbying auprès des institutions européennes. L'EDF fait preuve d'un haut niveau d'expertise. L'effort supplémentaire devrait se concentrer davantage sur l'aspect éducatif afin que son travail puisse être compris par des personnes qui ne sont pas des experts en la matière.

BDF a répondu si possible à chaque demande d'EDF sur les sujets principaux : elle a apporté sa contribution aux enquêtes, aux prises de position... BDF a joué un rôle actif au conseil d'administration d'EDF et à l'AGA. BDF a fait de son mieux pour étudier les sujets et avoir une position cohérente sur chacun d'eux du point de vue des personnes handicapées en Belgique.

Etablir la liste exhaustive serait long. Répondre à cette évaluation externe est un exemple.

X

Les contraintes de temps étaient généralement trop serrées. C'est un problème particulièrement important pour un État membre comme la Belgique où nous devons travailler en trois langues différentes. D'autant plus que le principe de travail du BDF est de consulter le plus possible ses associations membres.

Proposal of answer

General secretary

Strive for "the perfect world" for persons with disabilities

X

Heading for the ideal is a nice prospect. Nevertheless, if it remains too idealistic, it is very difficult to move the authorities to act positively. If the first step is too big, they will refuse the obstacle, like a horse in a jumping... and the result that is obtained when it happens is deceiving for the persons who have been expecting much more. BDF is in a more pragmatical approach and would prefer to have the ideal prospective but with a planification of the expected steps at short and medium terms.

Working together with national councils on the definition of strategies all together seeking for the best and for the realistic steps... in order to make their lobbying of State governments as efficient as possible

EDF could consult it's members organisation more in advance on the thematics it works on. Organising small size working groups in order to collect the point of view of the members would open the scope of EDF positions. This could become a systematical working way for the second day in EDF AGA.

Two key benefits : 1) Support in the UNCRPD process 2) Support on the European Disability Card pilot project

1) Gain a better understanding of UN methodology in order to write efficient proposal of questions and to defend it with the Committee of persons with disabilities 2) Benefit of the lobbying of the EDF at EC level

Providing practical supports to engage with the CRPD review as it was sharp and well documented

Place didactic sheets on the EDF website on the progress of the EU politics. Ideally, they should also be available in "easy to read and understand" language to allow a better understanding of European developments by persons with disabilities.

The BDF has no way of assessing the impact of these means

It's a wide range of means. Enlarge it more doesn't seem an option. It's always possible to improve the quality

The BDF has no way of assessing the impact of these means

The action of EDF is efficient as a lobbying structure towards EU institutions. EDF shows a high level of expertise. The additional effort should focus more on the educationnal aspect so that it's work can be understood by persons who are not experts in these matters

BDF answered in each possible request from EDF in the main topics: it gave input to enquiries, position notes... BDF took an active role in EDF's Board and AGA. BDF did its best to investigate the topics and to have a coherent behaviour on each of them from the point of view of persons with disabilities in Belgium.

Establish the exhaustive list of these would be long. Answering this external evaluation is one example

X

Time constraints were generally too tight. This is particularly big a problem for a Member State like Belgium where we have to work in 3 different languages. Especially as the working principle of BDF is to consult with its member associations as much as possible
