Objet : TR: Joint Reaction to the new EU Strategy on the Rights of the Child

Dear Haydn

BDF did read carefully the two position papers. In the joint position paper, the link between being a child with disabilities and poverty situation doesn't appear. This is understandable as in a joint paper it is difficult to point out the situation of a specific group.

Therefor BDF thinks EDF should not stop defending its own position paper related to the EU strategy on the rights of the child even if EDF did subscribe to the joint position.

Kind regards

Objet: Joint Reaction to the new EU Strategy on the Rights of the Child

Dear Board Members,

It was nice to see many of you today in our Board meeting. On behalf of the secretariat I am just writing to you to inform you about a recent joint statement EDF will join in reaction to the new EU Child Rights Strategy.

In July 2020 EDF endorsed the joint Position Paper on a Comprehensive Child Rights Strategy. Following the adoption of the new Strategy, the Child Rights Action Group has now developed a joint reaction to it, with a brief assessment of the Strategy and some recommendations for the future, which you can find attached to this email and will include the EDF logo. It carries over the advocacy points EDF raised during the Commission's consultation on the new Strategy, and those included in our own position paper on children's rights.

If you have points that you would like to raise with us for our future advocacy work on this topic, and our dissemination of the joint statement, you are very welcome to contact me directly.

Wishing you a very nice week ahead.

Warm regards,

Haydn Hammersley (he/him)
