Objet : RE: EDF Board, Monday mailing-2020-04-06 :

Dear Raquel

Thank you for your efforts for the organization of the board "On-line".

I want to share with you the concern of the BDF on the organization of meetings through videoconference.

Videoconferencing is a great asset in such a "confinement" time.

Still, all participant must adopt "super cool" attitude during videoconferences, especially if the group is large:

- The role of the President or moderator is of increased importance : participants should stick to his/her requests as close as possible
- Not every participant has a top quality connection
- Not everyone is able to cope with all useful aspects all together: listening, looking, speaking, taking notes, find the "mute" button, trying to solve unexpected technical issues, ...
- Not every participant is as fluent as a native English speaker
- Not everyone can be seen or heard at the same time
- Each one has to be aware that other people maybe wish to say something
- It is even more important to be concise
- All in all, it can prove to be exhausting

Enjoy this sunny afternoon

Kind regards

Olivier Magritte
